Sales of United States Government Securities in December 1942

Classified by Type of Investor

The following table presents an analysis of the sales of United States Government securities in December 1942 by type of investor. Statistics for the breakdown of total sales of the various securities issued are available in part from tabulations of subscriptions and allotment data and are estimated in part on the basis of the information which is available. A complete breakdown, by type of investor, is available only for the 7/8 percent certificates, the 1-3/4 percent bonds, and the 2-1/2 percent bonds. Series E savings bonds are sold only to natural persons. A breakdown for Series A and C tax notes is available between individuals and all corporations, and a breakdown into the same two classes has been estimated for Series F and G savings bonds. The whole amount of sales of these securities to corporations has been classified as "other corporations". Small amounts of them were purchased by the types of corporate investors specifically listed in the table, but not enough to affect the results materially. The total amount shown for Treasury bills is the net increase in the whole supply of bills during the month of December, rather than total sales during that month as is the case for all other securities. The entire increase in bills has been assumed to have been absorbed by banking sources.

Sources of Dividend Receipts, 1936

The accompanying tables are derived from special tabulations of the 1936 income tax returns of individuals, corporations, and fiduciaries, undertaken as a part of the Income Tax Study for 1936 which was sponsored and directed by the Division of Tax Research of the Treasury Department in cooperation with the Works Projects Administration. They contain information hitherto not available and are presented in advance of detailed analysis.

In 1936, corporations paid out a total of $7.4 billions in cash dividends--the largest amount since 1930--which compares with an average amount of $6.0 billions for the preceding 10-year period (1926 through 1935). The volume of cash dividends in 1936 undoubtedly was influenced by the operation of the undistributed profits tax which encouraged a more substantial distribution than would otherwise have taken place. It may also be noted that 1936 was the last year for which a tabulation of this nature could be made. Individual and fiduciary income tax returns of subsequent years do not contain detailed dividend schedules.

The amounts and distributions of dividends received do not necessarily reflect corporate ownership. Equal amounts of dividends do not always represent identical amounts of corporate net worth. Moreover, no distinction could be made in the tabulation of these data between dividends on preferred stock and dividends on common stock. Finally, the data throw no light upon the ownership of corporations which did not pay dividends in 1936.

Table I shows the dividends received by corporations, individuals, and fiduciaries, classified (a) by size of total assets of dividend paying corporations and (b) by size of total assets of dividend receiving corporations and by size of net income of dividend receiving individuals. Table II provides the same information for each class of dividend recipients on the basis of percentage distribution of dividends received and Table III provides it on the basis of percentage distribution of dividends paid.

Individuals filing income tax returns received 56 percent, corporations 74 percent, and fiduciaries 70 percent of their dividend income from corporations with total assets of $10 millions and over. Of the three main groups of recipients, fiduciaries showed the highest percentage of dividends received from the largest corporations (total assets of $100 millions and over). Intercorporate dividends are highly concentrated in the group of corporations with total assets of $10 millions and over. More than 84 percent of the intercorporate dividends paid by this group went to other corporations with total assets of $10 millions and over.

The relative importance of individuals as recipients of dividends distributed by small corporations is indicated further by a comparison of the percentages shown in Table II with a percentage distribution of total cash dividends paid in 1936 by corporations in the various asset size classes. (See below for dividend distribution from "Statistics of Income for 1936", part II, table 5.)

Table II indicates that the financial interest in small corporations of individuals with large amounts of net income is proportionately much smaller than that of individuals with small amounts of net income. For example, while dividend payments of corporations with total assets of less than $50,000 amounted to 1.26 percent of the dividends paid by all corporations, the proportion of dividends received by individuals with net income of $50,000 or more from this group of small corporations ranged only between .01 percent (for the class with net income of $1 million and over) and .94 percent (for individuals with net income between $60,000 and $70,000). The ratio increased steadily as net income of the recipients declined, and individuals with net income of less than $5,000 received on the average 3.11 percent of their dividend income from the group of the smallest corporations.

Table III emphasizes further the disproportionately small financial interest of the high income groups of individuals in small corporations. Of the dividends paid by all corporations to all individuals filing income tax returns, only 18.28 percent was paid to individuals with net income of less than $5,000. However, the share of this group in the dividend payments of corporations with total assets of less than $50,000 was 28.81 percent, and in those of corporations with total assets between $50,000 and $100,000, 20.27 percent. Similarly, only 12.79 percent of total dividend payments to individuals filing income tax returns was paid to individuals with net income between $5,000 and $10,000, but this group was paid more than 24 percent of the dividends paid to individuals by corporations of the two lowest asset size classes. On the other hand, individuals with net income of $50,000 and more, whose proportionate share was 31.34 percent, were paid less than 7 percent of the dividends paid to all individuals filing income tax returns by corporations with total assets of less than $100,000.

METHODS USED IN DIVIDEND STUDY

Procedure: The original tabulation plans called for a 100 percent transcription of the duplicate returns of corporate dividend recipients, of fiduciary returns, and of those individual income tax returns on which a total dividend income of $10,000 or more was reported. With respect to others, a 25 percent sample was selected in two stages, as follows: First, every tenth block of 100 returns on file with the Income Tax Study was drawn. After transcription, these blocks were returned to their original position in the file. The second drawing (of approximately 15 percent) was made by taking every seventh block of 100 returns. In those cases where the seventh block was one which had been drawn previously as a tenth block, a substitute block was provided.

Coverage: Compared with the tabulations of dividend income shown in "Statistics of Income for 1936", Parts 1 and 2, the actual over-all coverage of corporate dividend receipts was 58.6 percent; of fiduciary returns, 61.3 percent (estimated); and of individual returns with dividend incomes of $10,000 or more, 71.7 percent. The tabulation of the 25 percent sample of individual returns with dividend incomes of less than $10,000 yielded an actual over-all coverage of 15.0 percent. The coverage was incomplete due mainly to inadequate information in the returns selected.

Inflation of the samples: The inflation of the samples to the amounts of dividend income reported in "Statistics of Income for 1936" was made separately for each asset size class of corporate dividend recipients and for each net income class of individual dividend recipients. Coverages of the different sub-groups varied to some extent. In isolated cases where there was only a relatively small number of dividend recipients, the sample coverage exceeded 100 percent of the corresponding totals shown in "Statistics of Income".

The "blowing up" of the data relating to individual dividend recipients was made in two steps. First, the "small" dividend income sample was inflated to the same coverage represented by the respective classes of the "large" dividend income tabulation, and the sum of the two amounts was then inflated further to the 100 percent levels derived from "Statistics of Income".

Because no statistics of fiduciary returns of income were available for 1936, a uniform multiplication factor derived from an estimate of the 1936 dividend income of this group was applied, and no breakdowns by size of income are presented.

Inclusion of taxable fiduciary returns in tabulation of individual returns: The total dividend income of $3,226 millions reported for individuals is overstated by $117,629,000, or 3.6 percent. This amount represents the dividend income of taxable estates and trusts. (See "Statistics of Income Supplement Compiled from Federal Income Tax Returns for 1936", Section I, Table 2-J.) In 1936, taxable estates and trusts (i.e., those which failed to distribute more than $1,000 to their beneficiaries) had to file income tax returns on individual income tax forms (Form 1040) since the Fiduciary Return of Income (Form 1041) of that year was merely an information return and did not provide any space for tax computations.

Although not required to do so, many taxable fiduciaries also filed Form 1041 in 1936, in addition to the income tax return on Form 1040. In order to avoid duplication from the double filing of returns, all fiduciary returns of income (Form 1041) which showed undistributed income of more than $1,000 were eliminated from the tabulation of fiduciary returns with dividend income.

Estate Tax in the United States, United Kingdom, and Canada

Effective Rates, January 1, 1943

The following table and chart show the taxes due on estates of selected sizes in the United States, the United Kingdom, and Canada. The New York State tax has been added to the net Federal tax, and the Ontario Provincial tax has been added to the Canadian Dominion tax; in the United Kingdom only the central government imposes death taxes. These calculations are based on the assumption that the estate is divided equally between a widow and one adult child.

In the United States the Federal Government grants each estate a specific exemption of $60,000; in Canada under the Dominion law the exemption varies according to the number of heirs and their relationship to the decedent, from $20,000 for a widow to a minimum of $1,000 per heir with no tax levied if the estate is less than $5,000. There is no specific exemption in the United Kingdom, but estates of less than $400 are not subject to tax.<sup>2/</sup>

The three countries employ somewhat different types of rate schedules. The United States imposes bracket rates, each rate applying only to the amount of property in a single bracket. The United Kingdom employs totality rates; a single rate, determined by the size of the total estate, is applied to the total amount of property subject to tax. Notch provisions prevent a small difference in the size of an estate from making a greater difference in the amount of tax. The Canadian tax also imposes totality rates. These rates however rise very gradually and notch provisions are not needed. With certain exceptions in the lower brackets, two sets of totality rates apply to each inheritance; one rate is determined by the amount of the total estate, the other by the size of the inheritance and the relationship.

In the United States transfers of property at death are taxed also by all of the States, except Nevada. The Federal Government allows the state to credit against the Federal liability payments of state death taxes in amounts not exceeding 80 percent of the tax due under the Federal Act of 1926, which imposes rates ranging from 1 to 20 percent. In Canada all Provinces impose death taxes, but the Dominion allows no credit for Provincial death taxes. In the United Kingdom the smaller jurisdictions have no death taxes. However, the central government imposes in addition to the estate duty, which is the major death tax, a legacy and succession duty which varies with relationship. In recent years this latter tax has averaged about 1.9 percent of total estates.

International comparisons of the taxes imposed by different jurisdictions on the transfer of property from one generation or one person to another are subject to several limitations. The significance of some factors cannot be readily appraised, and it is difficult to summarize and generalize about others.

Variations in the treatment of gifts made before death are especially significant. The United States and Canada, but not the United Kingdom, impose gift taxes. In the United States the gift tax rates are nominally three-quarters of the estate tax rates. The United States gift tax is cumulative; all gifts (except philanthropic gifts and amounts exempted and excluded from the base) made since June 6, 1932, are added to determine the bracket or brackets in which the current year's gifts are taxable. The Canadian gift tax is not cumulative; its rates are higher than the death tax rates. In the United States there is a presumption that outright gifts made within two years of death are to be included in the estate (credit being given for gift tax paid), but the presumption is not conclusive, and many such gifts as well as a large part of those made more than two years before death are in fact not subjected to the estate tax. In the United Kingdom non-charitable gifts made within three years (and charitable gifts made within one year) of death are included in the estate; in Canada gifts made within three years of death are included in the estate (credit being given for gift tax paid). In all three countries gifts on which there are certain legal restrictions are included in the estate when outright gifts are excluded.

The tax bases are generally similar, but there are important differences other than the exemptions and treatment of gifts already noted. The United States law, for example, permits unlimited deduction of bequests to a wide variety of religious, charitable, educational, and other non-profit organizations, whereas the law of the United Kingdom grants virtually no deduction, and the Canadian law limits the deduction to one-half of the estate. The United States also allows more generous credit than the United Kingdom for "property previously taxed", that is, taxed recently in the estate of another decedent. Canada grants no such credit. Property subject to certain legal restrictions, such as powers of appointment and family settlements, is covered more thoroughly by the United Kingdom than by the United States law. The Canadian law also appears to provide stricter treatment, although the full meaning of the statute awaits further interpretation. The United States allows the executors to choose between valuation of the assets of the estate as of the date of death or a date one year later (or if distributed in the meantime at the date of distribution); neither the British nor the Canadian law provide such option.

1/ In the fiscal years 1935 and 1936, $91 millions and $554 millions, respectively, were transferred from increment on gold to the working balance for retirement of national bank notes. In this statement, however, charges for retirement of national bank notes are reflected directly against increment on gold in the years during which the retirements were actually made. Inactive gold in the amount of $1,087 millions for the fiscal year 1937 is considered as a part of the working balance.

2/ This represents the increase in the gross public debt, except as noted. (See footnote 1/.)

3/ Includes Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund, Unemployment Trust Fund, Railroad Retirement Account, Government insurance and retirement funds and other trust funds.

4/ Comprises Public Works Administration revolving fund and special deposits (net). Also includes Agricultural Marketing Administration commodity food stamp transactions.

5/ Includes expenditures for retirement of national bank notes.

6/ In the fiscal years 1935 and 1936, $91 millions and $554 millions were transferred from increment on gold to the working balance for retirement of national bank notes. In this statement, however, charges for retirement of national bank notes are reflected directly against increment on gold, in the years during which the retirements were actually made. Inactive gold in the amount of $1,087 millions for the fiscal year 1937 is considered as a part of the working balance general and special accounts for the purpose of this table.

7/ Expenditures for the retirement of national bank notes from increment on gold for the fiscal years 1935 to 1939 (as shown below) are not reflected herein, but are reflected under increment on gold as follows: 1935 - $91 millions, 1936 - $397 millions, 1937 - $99 millions, 1938 - $51 millions, and 1939 - $5 millions, total - $645 millions. The increase in the public debt shown in the table Means of Financing Cash Requirements for the above fiscal years will not agree for the reason stated above.

1/ Treasury bills are included in interest-bearing debt figures at face amount, but for the purpose of calculating the computed annual interest charge and the computed rate of interest, the discount value is used. For the purposes of computing the annual interest charge and rate of interest on United States savings bonds, Series A-E are considered to yield 2.90 percent per annum and Series F is considered to yield 2.53 percent.

2/ Excludes securities guaranteed by the United States which were sold directly to the Treasury. Consists only of securities guaranteed by the United States as to both principal and interest.

<sup>p</sup> Preliminary.<sup>1/</sup> Figures for November and following months are not strictly comparable with earlier months because of the shift to a Daily Treasury Statement basis. Stamps sold prior to October 1, 1942 were known as postal savings stamps and were obligations of the Postal Savings System but subsequently became public debt obligations.

T Taxable issues.

1/ When the price of a security is such as to result in a negative yield, the excess of price over zero yield is given in the yield columns in thirty-seconds.

2/ Prices represent the mean of closing bid and ask quotations in the over-the-counter market. "When issued" prices are included beginning November 1, 1941. Dates of highs and lows, in case of recurrence, are the latest dates.

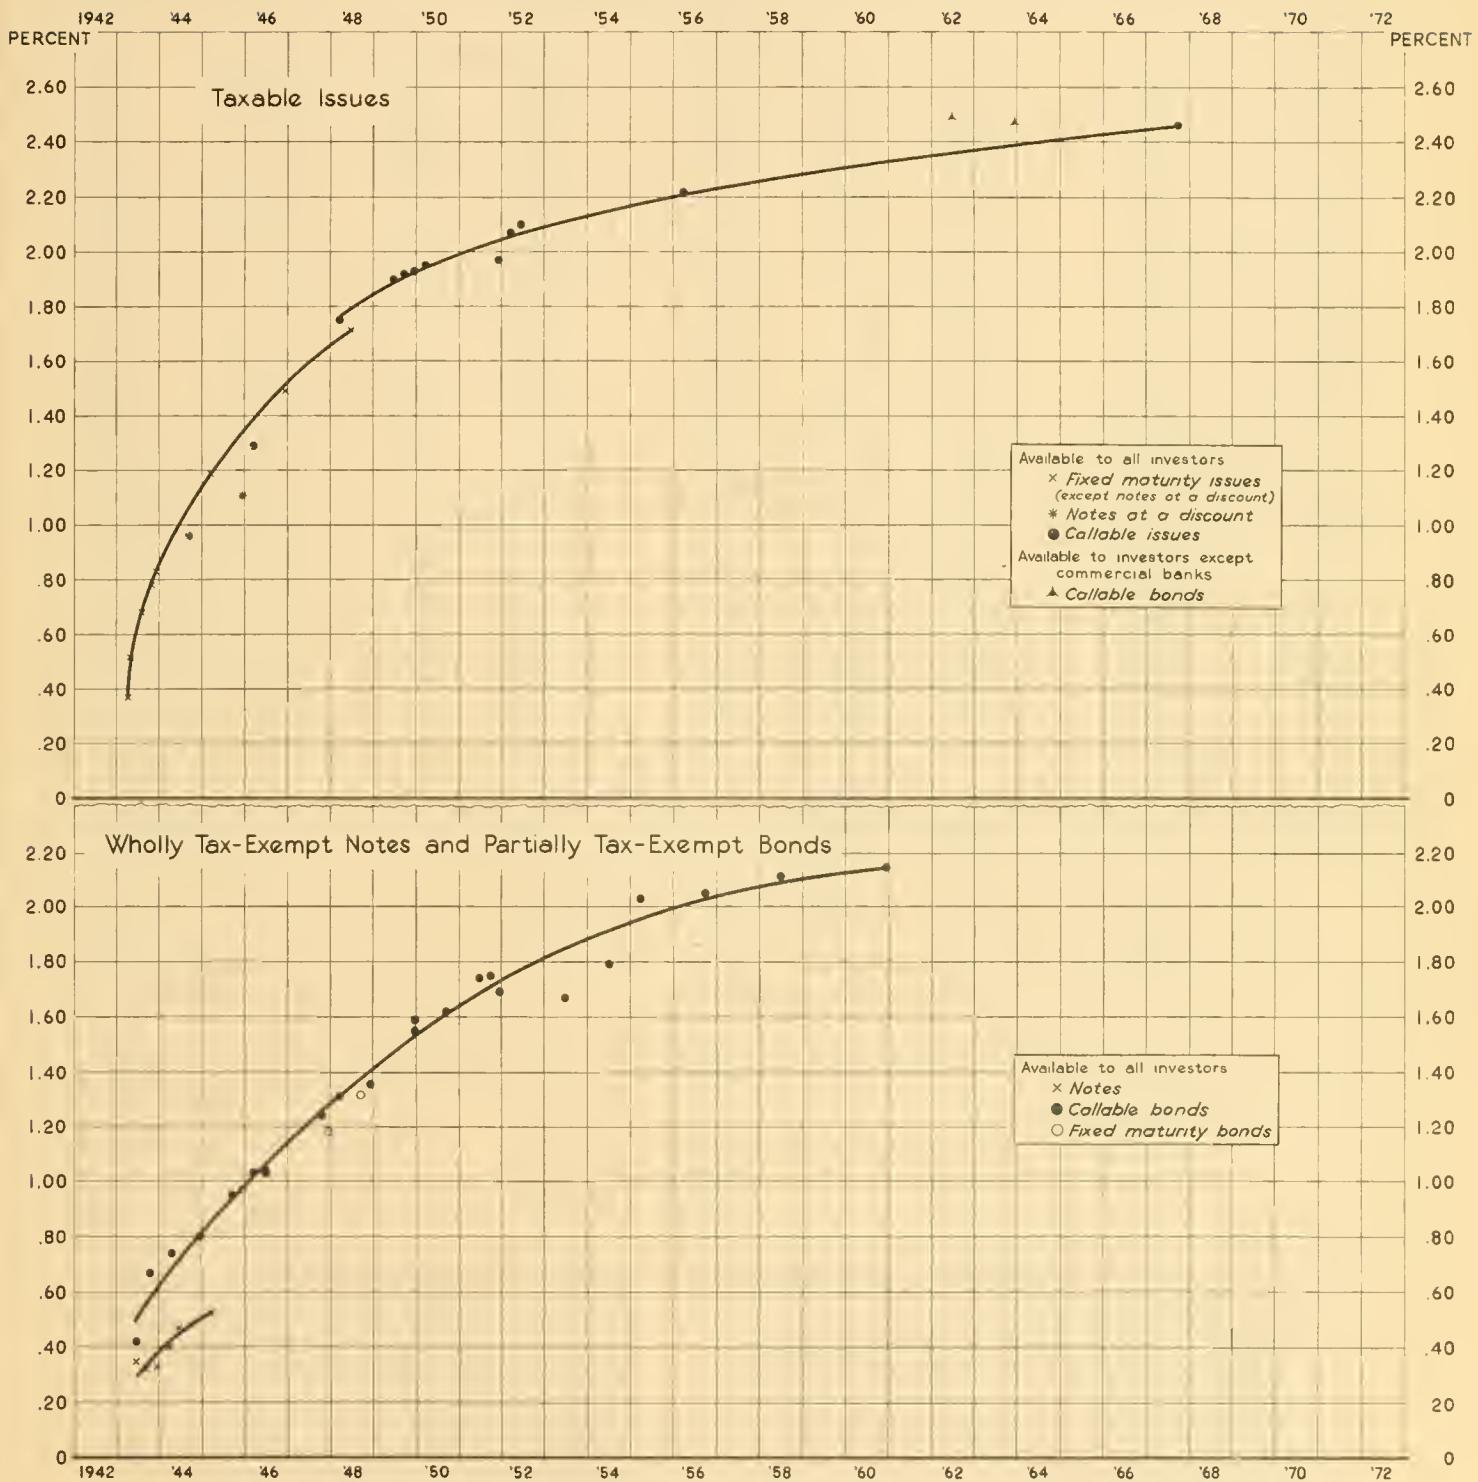

3/ Computed on mean price to call date when prices are above par; to maturity date when prices are below par.

4/ Excludes issues completely held by Farm Credit Administration agencies.

5/ Callable on 30 days' notice at 100-1/2 on July 3, 1943. "Yield" is computed to maturity or call, depending on which date gives the lower yield.

6/ Not quoted.

YIELDS OF TREASURY SECURITIES DEC. 31, 1942
 Based on Mean of Closing Bid and Asked Quotations

Explanation: The points represent yields to call date when prices are above par, and to maturity date when prices are at par or below. The smooth curves for the various classes of points are fitted by eye. Issues for which an exchange offer has been made or which are due or callable in less than 3 months are excluded.

Basis of Computation: (1) Treasury bond yields are computed on the basis of the mean of bid and ask quotations in the over-the-counter market, beginning September 2, 1941; previously, closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange were used on days when sales took place on the Exchange in a particular issue and the mean of closing bid and ask quotations on the New York Stock Exchange on days when no sales took place. (2) Corporate bond yields are computed on the basis of closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange and the New York Curb Exchange; on days when an issue does not sell, the price of the last preceding sale is used. Back Figures: See "Treasury Bulletin" for July 1941, pages 21-26, and subsequent issues.

1/ Average of partially tax-exempt Treasury bonds neither due nor callable for twelve years. Partially tax-exempt bonds are those the interest on which is exempt from the normal rates of the Federal income tax. (In addition, interest derived from $5,000 aggregate principal amount of partially tax-exempt Treasury bonds and United States savings bonds issued before March 1, 1941 is exempt from the surtax rates of the Federal income tax.)

2/ Average of taxable Treasury bonds neither due nor callable for twelve years. The 2-1/2 percent bonds of 1962-67 and the 2-1/2 percent bonds of 1963-68, are excluded because of restrictions on their purchase and negotiability. Taxable bonds are those the interest on which is subject to both the normal and surtax rates of the Federal income tax. This average commenced October 20, 1941.

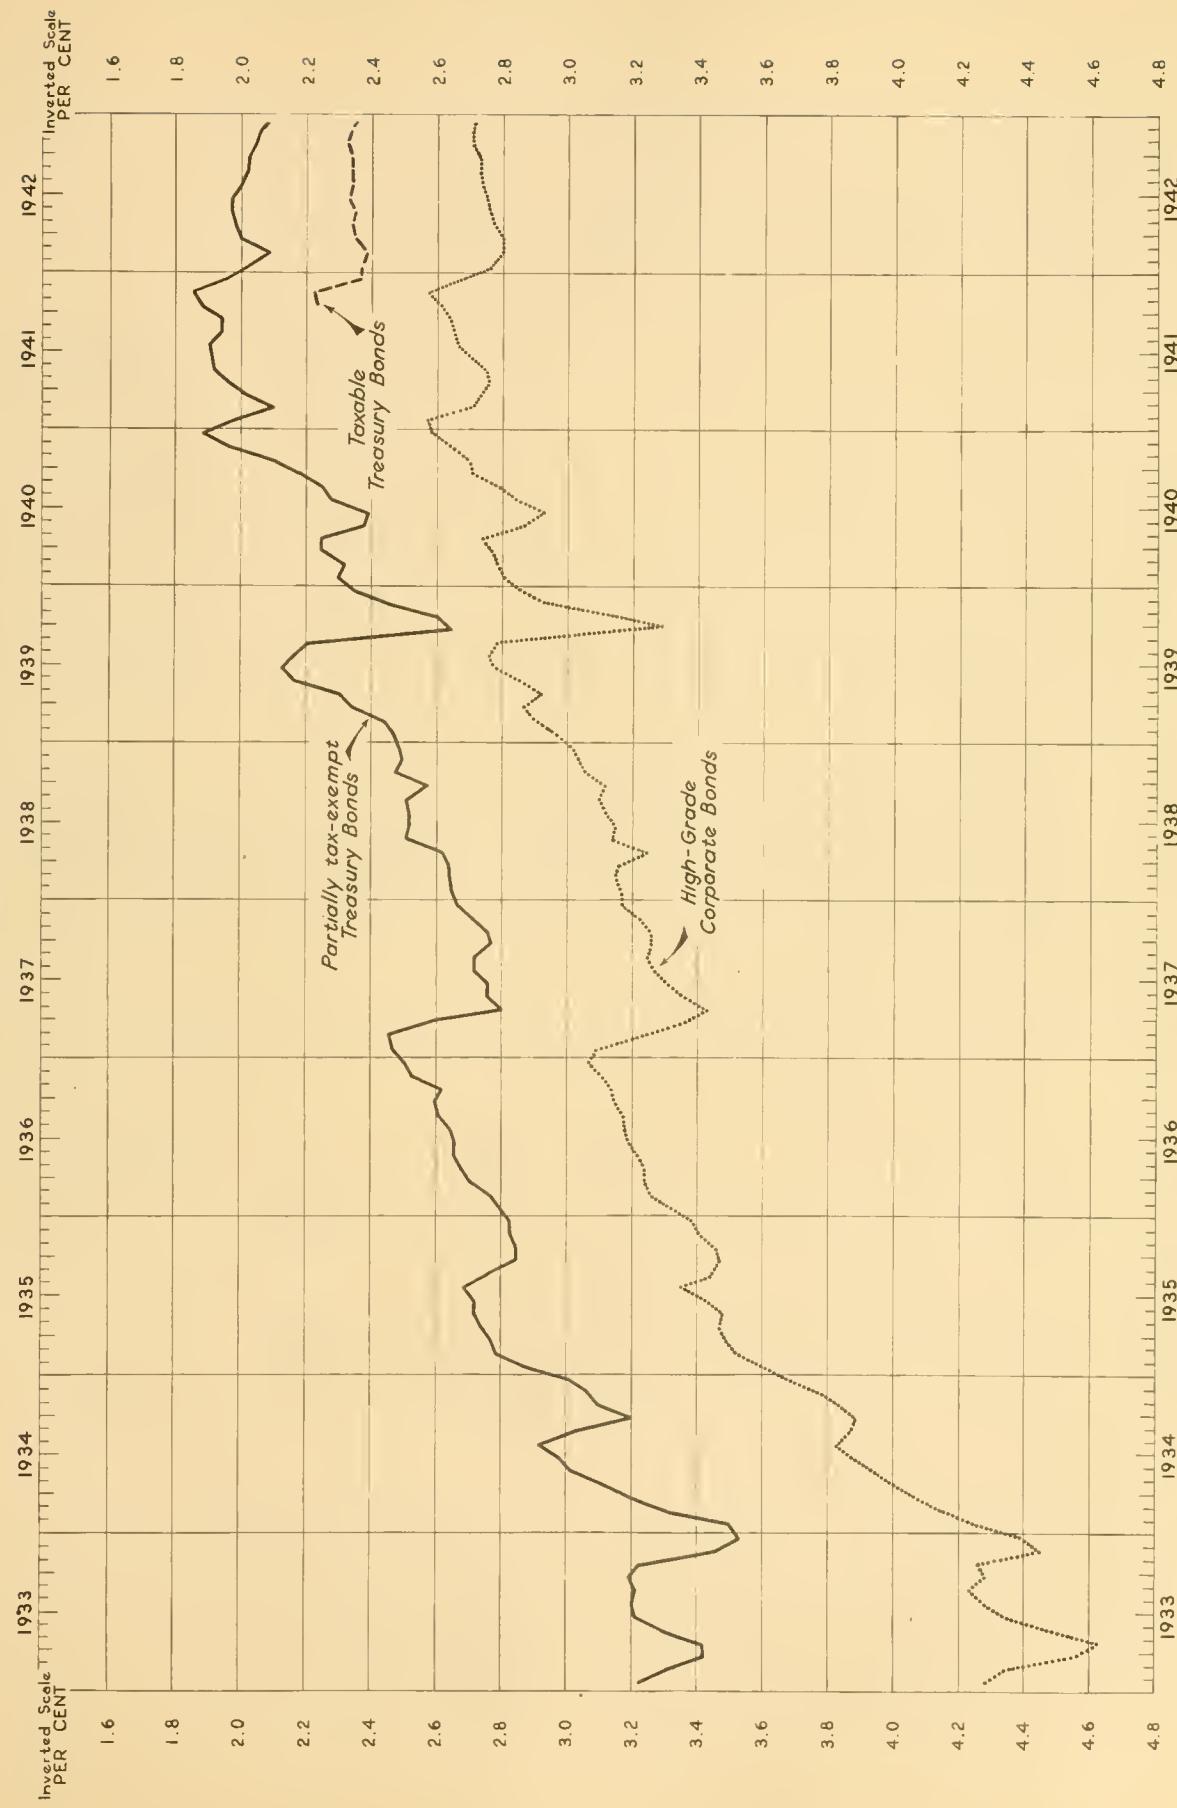

3/ Average of 9 bonds, January 6, 1933 through December 6, 1935; average of 15 bonds, December 7, 1935 through July 31, 1937; average of 20 bonds, August 1, 1937 through September 13, 1938; average of 5 bonds, September 14, 1938 to date.

4/ Monthly averages of daily figures. Prior to April 1, 1938, corporate bonds are averages of Saturday figures.

5/ On days when the exchanges are closed, the date and prices of the previous day are used.

6/ Holiday.
