Assets and Liabilities of All Active Banks in the United States

December 31, 1939 through December 31, 1944

The regular semi-annual report of the Comptroller of the Currency on the assets and liabilities of all active banks in the United States and possessions as of December 31, 1944 was released on May 7. The data were compiled from call reports of national banks and from information provided by State bank supervisory authorities and cover a total of 14,579 banks. Comparable data from earlier reports have been drawn upon in the preparation of the accompanying tables and charts.

Assets

From December 31, 1939 through December 31, 1944 assets of all active banks rose from $77.6 billion to $152.9 billion, an increase of $75.4 billion or 97%. The following table presents a distribution of total assets by classes of banks as of these two dates.

National banks and State commercial banks each showed increases of over 100% during the five-year period. These two classes of banks hold practically all of the demand deposits of the country as well as substantial amounts of time deposits. Mutual savings banks, on the other hand, in which deposits are exclusively savings accounts, showed an increase in assets of only 25% during the period. A decline in the number of private banks, due to the shift of larger ones into the commercial bank category, was primarily responsible for their decline in assets.

A distribution of total assets by major types of assets for each class of bank as of December 31, 1939 and 1944 is presented in the table at the bottom of this page.

United States Government securities held by all active banks increased from $19.4 billion to $86.4 billion during the period, an increase of $67.0 billion or 344%. The growth of Federal securities accounted for 89% of the total increase in assets of $75.4 billion over the period. Holdings of Federal securities by all active banks amounted to 25% of total assets at the beginning of the period, but by December 31, 1944 they accounted for over 56% (Charts 1 and 2).

In the case of national banks the increase in holdings of U. S. Government securities from the end of December 1939 through 1944 made up 83% of their total increase in assets ($34.4 billion out of $41.6 billion). Relative to total assets of national banks, U. S. Government securities accounted for 26% at the beginning of the period but by the end of December 1944 made up 57% of total assets (Charts 3 and 4).

Federal security holdings by State commercial banks followed a course over the five-year period similar to that of national banks. U. S. Government securities held by State commercial banks increased $27.7 billion and accounted for 88% of the increase in total assets of $31.5 billion. As a proportion of total assets, they increased from 23% to 57% (Charts 3 and 4).

The increase of U. S. Government securities held by mutual savings banks ($5.2 billion) was greater than the increase in total assets of those banks. A decline of $2.3 billion in loans and discounts, other securities, interbank and reserve balances, and other assets accounted for almost half of the increase in Government securities.

Total loans and discounts of all active banks increased from $22.4 billion on December 31, 1939 to $26.1 billion on December 31, 1944. This was an increase of $3.7 billion or 17%. As a proportion of total assets, however, loans and discounts declined from 29% to 17%. State and local, corporate, and other securities held by all active banks decreased from $9.3 billion to $7.6 billion during the period and accounted for 5% of total assets by December 31, 1944 as compared with 12% at the beginning of the period (Charts 1 and 2).

Table 1, at the end of this article, presents a detailed statement of the assets and liabilities of all active banks in the United States and possessions as of December 31, 1939 and 1944 and the intervening years. Table 2 gives similar data as of December 31, 1944 for each class of bank.

Liabilities and Capital Accounts

The $75.4 billion increase in assets of all banks from December 31, 1939 through 1944 was reflected on the liability side of the balance sheet almost entirely in the growth in deposits. The following table gives the change in liabili-

Demand deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations increased from $28.2 billion on December 31, 1939 to $65.3 billion on December 31, 1944, an increase of $37.1 billion or 132%. This growth in demand deposits accounted for 49% of the total $75.4 billion increase in liabilities and capital accounts (Chart 5).

As shown in Table 1 at the end of this article, demand deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations declined from $59.4 billion as of December 31, 1943 to $58.4 billion as of June 30, 1944, and increased to $65.3 billion as of December 31, 1944. The decline in the first six months of 1944 was due primarily to the timing of war loans. The Third War Loan had been time deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations by States and by 25 large metropolitan areas as of December 31, 1941 through 1944 was presented in the May 1945 issue of the "Treasury Bulletin". The minor differences between the amounts of deposits shown in that study and this one are due to differences in coverage.

over for two and one-half months by the end of December 1943 and demand deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations had risen during the interval as the Government spent the proceeds; whereas the Fifth War Loan was still in progress on June 30, 1944, with a consequent transfer of deposits from individuals, partnerships, and corporations to the Government. By December 31, 1944, demand deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations had increased significantly from the June 30 level even though the Sixth War Loan had just closed.

Time deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations showed an increase of 47% from $25.4 billion to $37.2 billion over the five-year period December 31, 1939-1944. Almost one-third of this increase occurred in the last six months of 1944 (Chart 5).

United States Government deposits (including postal savings deposits) increased from $0.9 billion on December 31, 1939 to $20.9 billion on December 31, 1944. This increase in the amount of Federal deposits in banks over the period reflects both the need for a larger working balance with the growth in Federal war expenditures, and the timing of war loans. Thus, on December 31, 1943 deposits of the U. S. Government were $10.5 billion but on June 30, 1944, toward the close of the Fifth War Loan, and on December 31, 1944, the end of the Sixth Loan, they had increased to $19.7 billion and $20.9 billion, respectively.

Capital accounts remained relatively stable during the period December 31, 1939-1944. They increased from $8.3 billion at the beginning of the period to $9.7 billion at the close, an increase of 17%. Of the capital stock items, capital notes and debentures and preferred stock declined $0.2 billion whereas common stock showed an increase of $0.2 billion. Surplus, undivided profits, and reserves increased $1.5 billion from December 31, 1939 to 1944. The ratio of capital accounts to total deposits was 1 to 8.27 at the beginning of the period and 1 to 14.68 on December 31, 1944. If cash and U. S. Government securities are deducted from total deposits, the ratio of capital to remaining deposits becomes 1 to 3.10 and 1 to 2.57 on December 31, 1939 and 1944, respectively.

The distribution of liabilities and capital accounts by classes of banks as of December 31, 1939 and December 31, 1944 is given in the table at the bottom of this page and in Chart 6.

The large increase in demand deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations shown for all active banks over the five-year period was proportionately distributed between national banks and State commercial banks. National and State commercial banks hold practically the entire amount of such demand deposits. Time deposits, of which each of the three major classes of banks hold about one-third, showed substantially smaller percentage growth. The comparatively small growth of mutual savings banks was primarily due to the lower national increase in time deposits -- since such deposits are the only type held by these banks. In addition, the geographical concentration of mutual savings banks in the Northeast, as contrasted with the growing financial importance of the West and the South, worked to the disadvantage of mutual savings banks during this period of wartime growth.

Treasury Market Financing

Results of April Refunding

Approximately 98% of the 7/8% Treasury certificates of indebtedness which matured May 1, 1945 were exchanged in April for new 1-year, 7/8% certificates of indebtedness to mature May 1, 1946. Exchanges accounted for $1,579 million of the $1,615 million maturing certificates outstanding. 1/

Refunding of June 1 Certificates

On May 10, 1945 it was announced that an offering of 13-month, 0.90% Treasury notes would be made on May 21 to holders of the 1-year, 7/8% certificates of indebtedness maturing June 1, 1945. It was stated that notes, rather than 1-year certificates, were being offered in exchange in order not to add the amount of the refunding to the Seventh War Loan certificate issue, which will be dated June 1, 1945 and mature June 1, 1946. The amount of certificates due June 1, 1945, was $4,770 million. The new notes were offered in denominations of $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $100,000, and $1,000,000. Subscription books were open May 21-23, inclusive, except for subscriptions from holders of $100,000 or less of the maturing issue, for whom the books were kept open through May 26.

Refunding of Called HOLC Bonds

It was also announced on May 10, 1945 that holders of the outstanding 1-1/2% Home Owners' Loan Corporation bonds of 1945-47, called for redemption on June 1, 1945, would be offered the opportunity to exchange their bonds for the new 0.90% notes to mature July 1, 1946. Subscription books for this exchange were open at the same time as the books for the exchange of the June 1 certificates. The HOLC bonds were outstanding in the amount of $755 million.

1/ Historical details of Treasury market financing operations involving bonds, notes, and certificates of indebtedness, beginning with the Third War Loan, are published in the tables on pages 31-32.

With the repayment of the HOLC bonds, the last of the publicly offered securities of Federal agencies guaranteed as to principal and interest by the United States has been retired. Since October 16, 1941, the Treasury has followed a policy of itself providing the funds needed by those Government corporations which are authorized to issue securities guaranteed by the United States as to principal and interest. Formerly these agencies sold their securities in the market, but under the current policy the securities issued by the corporations are exchanged for funds provided by the Treasury. The securities are thus indirectly reflected in the public debt. The amounts of such securities held by the Treasury are shown in the table on page 27. There remain publicly outstanding only two groups of unmatured obligations which are guaranteed by the United States: (1) $343 million of certain demand obligations of the Commodity Credit Corporation issued to commercial banks in connection with commodity transactions, and (2) $34 million of debentures issued by the Federal Housing Administration in connection with mortgage insurance.

Call of 2-3/4% Treasury Bonds

On May 14, 1945, the 2-3/4% Treasury bonds of 1945-47 were called for payment on September 15, 1945. These bonds were dated September 16, 1935. Their final maturity date was September 15, 1947 with the option to call by the Treasury, on four months' notice, extending from September 15, 1945 to final maturity. There are now outstanding $1,214 million of these bonds.

The Treasury's announcement of call stated that holders of the bonds may be offered, in advance of the redemption date, the privilege of exchanging all or any part of their called bonds for other interest-bearing obligations of the United States, in which event public notice would hereafter be given.

1/ In the fiscal years 1935 and 1936, $91 millions and $554 millions, respectively, were transferred from increment on gold to the working balance for retirement of national bank notes. In this statement, however, charges for retirement of national bank notes are reflected directly against increment on gold in the years during which the retirements were actually made. Inactive gold in the amount of $1,087 millions for the fiscal year 1937 is considered as a part of the working balance.

^{1/} Treasury bills are included in interest-bearing debt figures at face amount, but for purposes of calculating the computed annual interest charge and the computed rate of interest, the discount value is used. For the purposes of computing the annual interest charge and rate of interest on United States savings bonds, Series A-E are considered to yield 2.90% per annum and Series F is considered to yield 2.5%.

^{2/} Guaranteed securities held by the Treasury, and securities guaranteed as to interest only, are not included in this table.

^{1/} Excludes postal savings bonds, Federal Housing Administration debentures, and guaranteed securities held by the Treasury.

^{2/} It should be noted that callable issues appear twice in this column, once in the year of first call and again in the year of final maturity. Callable issues with respect to which a definite notice of call has been made, however, are listed as fixed maturities.

^{3/} Federal securities fall into three broad groups with respect to imposition of Federal income taxes on income derived therefrom.

"Wholly" tax-exempt securities are exempt from both the normal and surtax rates. "Partially" tax-exempt securities are exempt from the normal rates except that in the case of partially tax-exempt Treasury and savings bonds, interest derived from $5,000 of principal amount owned by any one holder is also exempt from the surtax rates. "Taxable" securities are subject to both normal and surtax rates.

r Revised.

* Less than $50,000.

1/ At current redemption values except Series G, which is stated at par.

2/ Estimated, except for Series G.

3/ For details concerning investment yields and redemption values, see "Treasury Bulletin" for May 1945, page A-4.

4/ Commercial bank purchases were permitted prior to April 1, 1940, and are estimated to have aggregated about $300 million.

5/ Not yet available.

6/ Series A-D, sold between March 1935 and April 1941, are 10 year discount bonds sold at 75% of maturity value, yielding 2.90% per annum if held to maturity; purchases were limited to $7,500 issue price in any calendar year and from April 1, 1940, could be made only by individuals. Series A bonds began to mature in March 1945. For information on the approximate monthly distribution of maturities during 1945 see "Treasury Bulletin" for March 1945, page A-2. The small amounts of matured bonds which have not been redeemed remain in the amount outstanding.

7/ There were $62.4 millions of Series A-D and I savings bonds redeemed through April 30, 1945 which had not been identified by series. For purposes of this table, it has been assumed that all of these were Series E bonds.

8/ Series I, on sale since May 1, 1941, is a 10 year discount bond sold at 75% of maturity value, yielding 2.90% per annum if held to maturity; purchases are limited to $3,750 issue price in any calendar year and may be made only by individuals.

9/ Series F and G have been on sale since May 1, 1941. Series F is a 12 year discount bond sold at 74% of maturity value, yielding 2.53% per annum if held to maturity. Series G is a 12 year current income bond, sold at par, bearing interest at the rate of 2-1/2% per annum, redeemable at par on maturity or at stated prices less than par before maturity. Purchases of Series F and G combined in any one calendar year are limited to $100,000 issue price ($50,000 in calendar year 1941). Commercial banks were permitted to purchase Series F and G bonds during the calendar year 1944 under certain conditions ("Treasury Bulletin" for December 1944, page 36, footnote 9); and from June 18 through June 30, 1945 they will again be permitted to make such purchases, subject to the following limitations: (1) purchases of Series F and G bonds during the calendar year may not exceed the annual limit of $100,000; and (2) combined purchases of Series F and G bonds, 1-1/2% Treasury bonds due 12/15/50, and 7-1/2% certificates of indebtedness due 6/1/46 may not exceed 10% of the combined amount of time certificates of deposit of individuals and non-profit corporations or associations and of savings deposits, or $500,000, whichever may be less.

* Less than $50,000.

1/ These notes were originally designed to help taxpayers set aside funds with which to pay taxes and were known as Treasury tax savings notes. Series A notes were designed for the small and moderate taxpayer; Series B and Series C notes were intended for the large taxpayer. When the collection of taxes through withholding at the source commenced, the need for Series A tax savings notes disappeared and their sale was discontinued. Redemption provisions of Series A notes were relaxed to provide for the payment of interest on notes thereafter redeemed for cash (see footnote 3). Sale of Series C notes, which were designed for the investment of idle cash reserves as well as for the accumulation of tax reserves, was continued and the notes were designated Treasury savings notes.

2/ Includes matured Treasury savings notes.

3/ Series A notes, which were sold from August 1, 1941 through June 22, 1943, yield approximately 1.92% per annum. Through June 22, 1943, the notes could be redeemed for cash only at the original purchase price; since that date, the notes have been redeemed for cash at the tax payment value current at the time of presentation. (See also footnote 1.) Prior to October 4, 1943, the maximum amount which could be used in payment of each class of tax (income, estate, or gift) by each taxpayer during each taxable year was limited to $5,000 par value; this limitation was removed as of that date.

4/ Series B notes were sold from August 1, 1941 through September 12, 1942, to yield approximately 0.48% per annum. The amount which may be turned in on taxes is unlimited. The notes may be redeemed for cash only at the original purchase price.

5/ Series C notes went on sale September 14, 1942. Interest accrues each month on a graduated scale (see "Treasury Bulletin" for August 1943, page 4) to yield approximately 1.07% per annum if held to maturity. These notes may be used in payment of Federal taxes at any time two months after the date of issue. The amount which may be turned in on taxes is unlimited. The notes may be redeemed for cash six months after the date of issue at the tax payment value current at the time of presentation. Prior to July 27, 1943, notice of 30 days was required for cash redemption. See also footnote 1.

Basis of Computation: (1) Treasury bond yields are computed on the basis of the mean of closing bid and ask quotations in the over-the-counter market, beginning September 2, 1941; previously, closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange were used on days when sales took place on the Exchange in a particular issue and the mean of closing bid and ask quotations on the New York Stock Exchange on days when no sales took place. (2) Corporate bond yields are computed on the basis of closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange and the New York Curb Exchange; on days when an issue does not sell, the price of the last preceding sale is used.

Back Figures: Monthly and weekly data for the period January 1933 through March 1944 appeared in the "Treasury Bulletin" for April 1944, page 57-61.

1/ Average of Treasury bonds neither due nor callable for fifteen years. For discussion of composition of average see "Treasury Bulletin" for March 1944, page 58. Partially tax-exempt bonds are those the interest on which is exempt from the normal rates of the Federal income tax, except that in the case of partially tax-exempt Treasury and United States savings bonds, interest derived from

2/ For discussion of present composition of high-grade corporate bond average, see "Treasury Bulletin" for January 1945, page 56; for discussion of its previous composition, as well as the considerations underlying its construction, see "Treasury Bulletin" for April 1943, page 61.

3/ Monthly averages of daily figures. Prior to April 1, 1938, corporate bonds are averages of Saturday figures.

4/ The composition of the high-grade corporate bond average was revised commencing with November 1, 1944. The old average for November 1944 was 2.56%. See footnote 2.

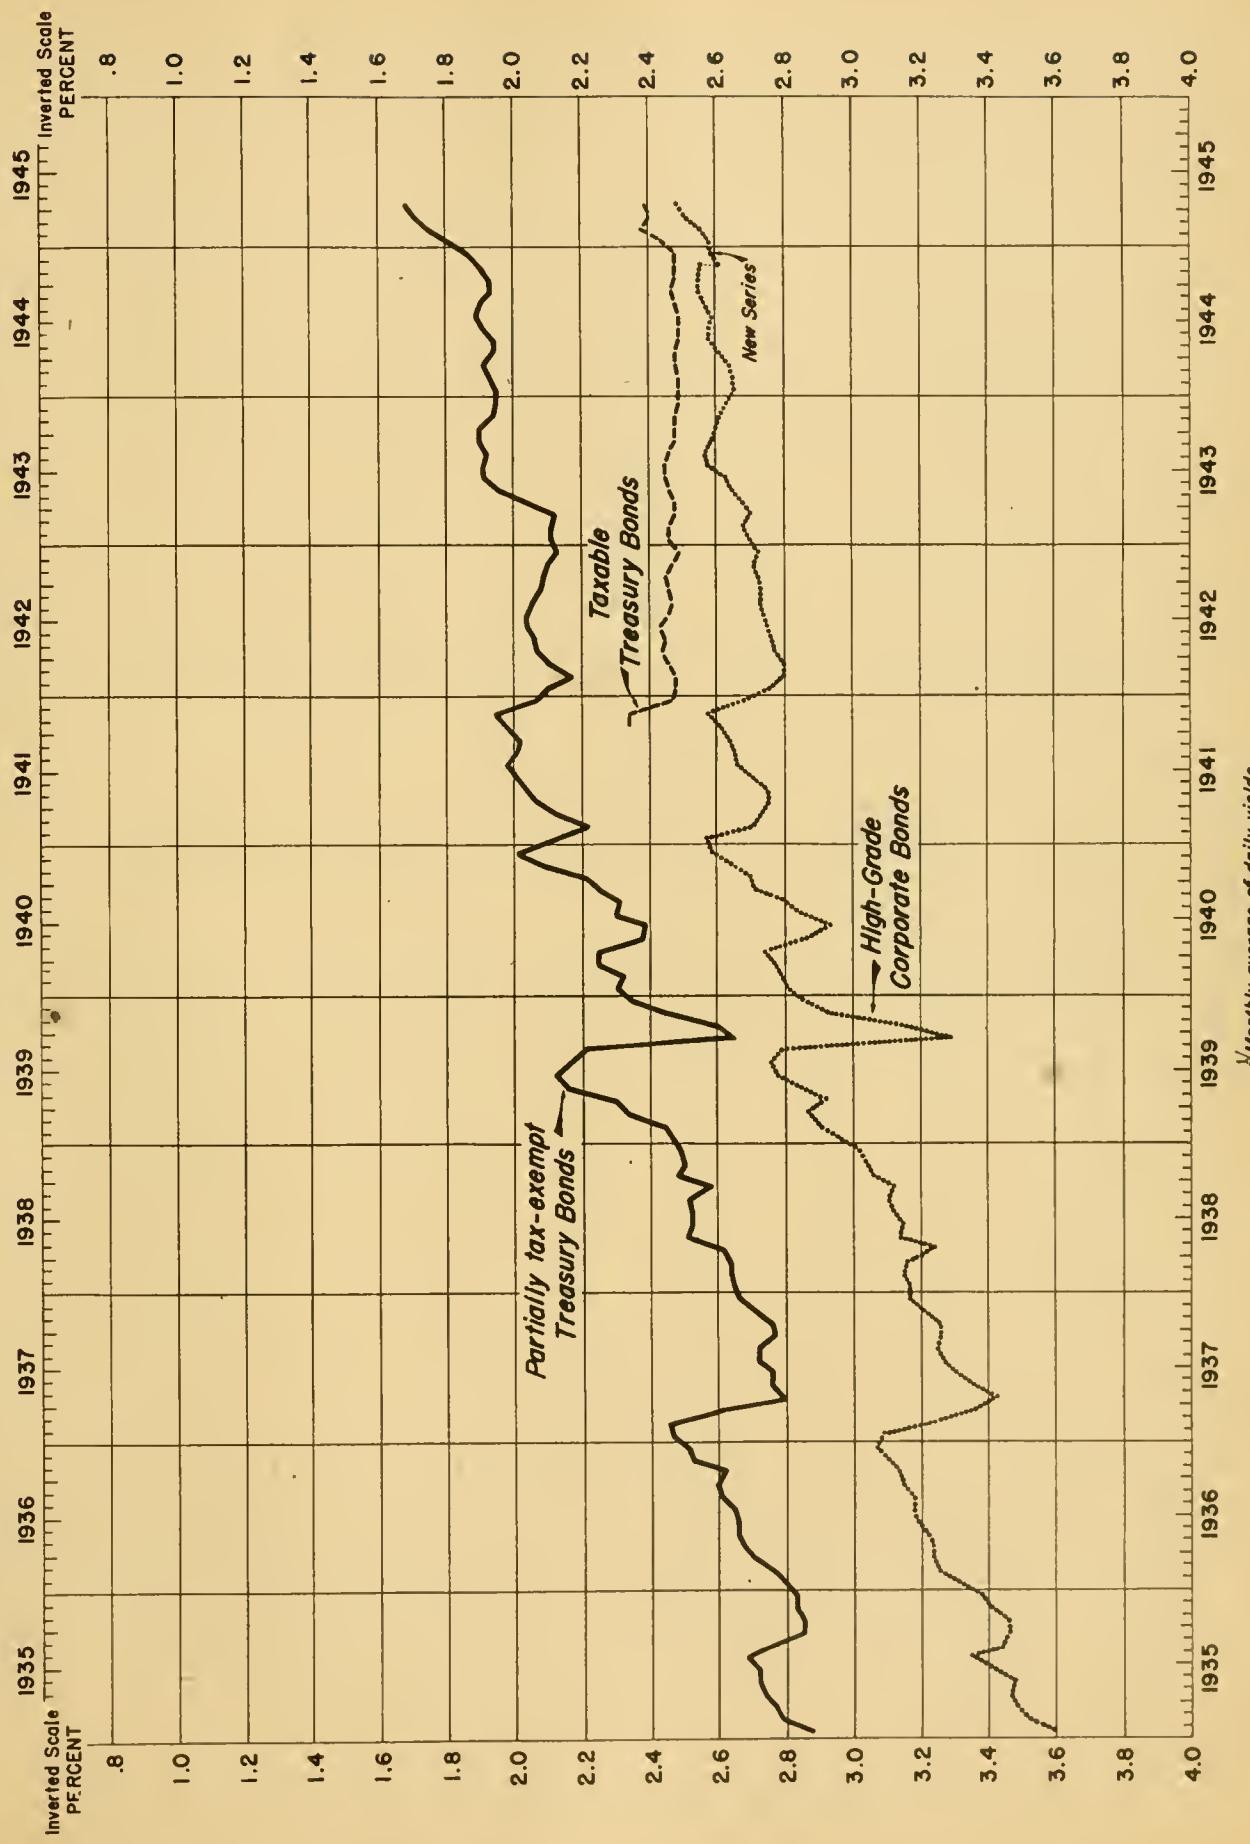

5/ On days when the exchanges are closed, the date and prices of the previous day are used.

6/ Indicates change in composition of average.

7/ Exchanges were closed.
