Taxable Corporation Income and Excess Profits Tax Returns: Advance Tabulation for 1943.

Advance tabulations of corporation income and excess profits tax returns for 1943 have recently been prepared by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. These tabulations contain data compiled from corporation income tax returns (Form 1120) and excess profits tax returns (Form 1121) received through December 31, 1944. ^{1/} Analysis of complete 1943 returns will be published at some future date in "Statistics of Income, Part 2, for 1943". The data contained in the advance tabulations are summarized in this article.

Income tax returns

The number of taxable 1943 returns, Form 1120, received through December 31, 1944 was 261,568 as compared with 246,710 returns for 1942 received in a similar period of time. ^{2/} Total net income reported on the 1943 returns was $27.7 billion, an increase of 20% over that reported for 1942. Normal tax net income amounted to $11.5 billion, the same as in 1942. ^{3/} The 1943 income tax was $4.4 billion.

	(In billions of dollars)
Net income.....	23.1	27.7
Normal tax net income...:	11.5	11.5
Normal and surtax.....	4.2	4.4

The table above presents a summary of the number of returns, net income, and taxes, for 1942 and 1943, as reported on taxable returns received through December 31 of the following year.

Excess profits tax returns

A total of 68,066 taxable 1943 excess profits tax returns (Form 1121) were received through December 31, 1944, an increase of 27% over the number received for 1942 through the end of December 1943. Of these, 44,351 used the invested capital method of computing the excess profits credit, and the remaining 23,715 used the average earnings method.

The 1943 returns showed excess profits net income of $22.1 billion, an increase of 31% over that reported on 1942 returns for a similar period. The excess profits tax for 1943 totaled $12.3 billion before credit for debt retirement and post-war refund, as compared with $8.5 billion for 1942. The table at the bottom of this page shows the number of returns and the amounts of the principal items for 1942 and 1943, by method of computing the excess profits credit.

There were 8,756 returns for 1943 reporting an unused excess profits credit carry-over; this carry-over totaled $500 million. Corporations which were subject to the tax limitation of 80% of surtax net income numbered 7,670, or 11% of all returns.

Coverage of statistics

Data included in these reports are tabulated from the taxable corporation income and declared-

^{1/} The income tax form 1120 is also used for the purpose of reporting the declared value excess profits tax. This tax should not be confused with the excess profits tax. The declared value excess profits tax is a concomitant of the capital stock tax, enacted in 1933. Its yield is relatively low, amounting to $145 million for the 1943 returns covered here.

^{2/} Of the 1943 returns, 66,960 showed income subject to the excess profits tax. This differs slightly from the number of excess profits tax returns reported, since the excess profits tax returns (Form 1121) and the corresponding income tax returns (Form 1120) are not necessarily received in the Bureau at the same time.

^{3/} Net income as used throughout this article is net income for declared value excess profits tax; that is, gross income less deductions. Adjustment of this figure for partially tax-exempt interest, the dividends received credit, the declared value excess profits tax, and income subject to excess profits tax, gives normal tax net income.

value excess profits tax returns, Form 1120, and its two variants, Form 1120L for life insurance companies and Form 1120M for mutual insurance companies, and from taxable corporation excess profits tax returns, Form 1121, listed for assessment by the collectors and received in the Bureau of Internal Revenue through December 31, 1944. Returns are taken as filed by the taxpayers, prior to revisions which may be made as a result of audit by the Bureau, and prior to any changes which may result from renegotiation of war contracts after the returns were filed. The tabulations contain data from returns for which the major part of the accounting period was in 1943; these include returns for the calendar year 1943, for fiscal years ending in the period July 1943 through June 1944, and part years with the greater part of the accounting period falling in 1943.

Comparability with previous years

For corporations filing returns for the calendar year 1943 or for fiscal or part years ending in 1943, there was no change in the income or excess profits tax provisions. Corporations filing on the basis of fiscal or part years with part of the accounting period falling in 1944, however, compute their tax under both the 1943 and the 1944 tax law, pro-rated according to the part of the accounting period falling in each calendar year. The following changes were made for 1944:

- (1) The excess profits tax specific exemption was increased from $5,000 to $10,000, and exemption from filing a return was accordingly extended to corporations with excess profits net income up to $10,000.
- (2) The rate of excess profits tax was increased from 90 to 95% of adjusted excess profits net income.
- (3) The excess profits credit based on invested capital was reduced as follows:

Invested capital	Percentage allowed as credit
	1942	1943
First $5 million.....	8	8
Next $5 million.....	7	6
Next $190 million.....	6	5
Over $200 million.....	5	5

1/ Net income for declared value excess profite tax is net income increased by the declared value excess profite tax and reduced by certain partially tax-exempt interest.

2/ Normal tax net income is net income reduced by the dividends received credit, partially tax-exempt interest, and taxable excess profite.

3/ This tax should not be confused with the excess profite tax. The declared value excess profite tax is a concomitant of the capital stock tax enacted in 1933.

* Less than $500,000.

^{1/} Normal tax net income as here reported, in contrast with Table 1, includes taxable excess profits and dividends received from domestic corporations.

^{2/} Excess profits net income is normal tax net income (as used in this table) after certain adjustments, consisting principally of the exclusion of long-term capital gains and losses, and dividends received from domestic corporations.

^{3/} The excess profits credit is computed by one of the following methods:

(a) Income method: 95% of average base period net income plus 8% of net capital addition or minus 6% of net capital reduction. Average base period net income may be determined either on the general average basis or on the basis recognizing increased earnings in the last half of the base period (the "growth formula"). Generally, the base period begins with taxable years beginning in 1936 and ends with taxable years beginning in 1939.

(b) Invested capital method: 8% of the first $5 million of invested capital, plus 7% of the next $5 million, plus 6% of the next $190 million, plus 5% on the excess over $200 million. The amount shown here does not include unused excess profits credits of previous years.

^{4/} Adjusted excess profits net income (taxable excess profits) is the amount of excess profits net income in excess of the sum of the specific exemption, excess profits credit, and unused excess profits carry-over.

^{5/} The credit for debt retirement is, at the election of the taxpayer, credited against the excess profits tax. This credit is the lesser of (1) 10% of the excess profits tax, or (2) 40% of net debt reduction for the year.

^{6/} The post-war refund is equal to 10% of the excess profits tax reduced by the credit for debt retirement (footnote 5). This refund is represented by non-interest-bearing, non-negotiable bonds redeemable at the option of the holder commencing January 1, 1946.

Treasury Market Financing

On July 23, 1945, the Treasury announced the offering of new 1-year 7 $\frac{7}{8}$ % certificates of indebtedness, to mature August 1, 1946, in exchange for certificates due August 1, 1945, which were outstanding in the amount of \$2,511 million. The new certificates were offered in denominations of \$1,000, \$5,000, \$10,000, \$100,000, and \$1,000,000. Interest is payable February 1 and August 1, 1946.

The subscription books were open July 23-25, inclusive, except that for subscriptions from the holders of $100,000 or less of the maturing certificates the books remained open through July 28.

Exchanges amounted to $2,470 million, or 98% of the maturing issue, leaving only $41 million to be paid off in cash.

New Federal Land Bank Bonds

On July 11, 1945, the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration announced an offering (for cash) by the Federal land banks of \$176 million of 1-1 $\frac{1}{2}$ % consolidated Federal farm loan bonds, dated August 1, 1945. They will mature October 1, 1950, and will be redeemable on October 1, 1948, or on any interest date thereafter. Interest will be payable on April 1, 1946 and semi-annually thereafter on October 1 and April 1. The offering price, which was announced on July 17, was 100-5/8 and accrued interest. The bonds were available in denominations of \$100, \$500, \$1,000, \$5,000, and \$10,000.

1/ Formerly Title VIII of the Social Security Act.

2/ Formerly Title IX of the Social Security Act. Includes amounts equal to appropriations to Railroad Unemployment Insurance Administration Fund equivalent to amounts of taxes collected with respect to the period from January 1936 to June 1938, inclusive, from employers subject to the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act (See Table 3 of Section I).

3/ Prior to January 1, 1940, figures represent amounts transferred to the Old-Age Reserve Account. ^{1/} (1) Federal securities issued by the Treasury and (2) Federal Housing Administration debentures (the only interest-bearing public marketable guaranteed securities outstanding).^{2/} It should be noted that callable issues appear twice in this column, once in the year of first call and again in the year of final maturity. Callable issues with respect to which a definite notice of call has been made, however, are listed as fixed maturities.^{3/} Federal securities fall into three broad groups with respect to imposition of Federal income taxes on income derived therefrom.

"Wholly" tax-exempt securities are exempt from both the normal and surtax rates. "Partially" tax-exempt securities are exempt from the normal rates except that in the case of partially tax-exempt treasury and savings bonds, interest derived from $5,000 of principal amount owned by any one holder is also exempt from the surtax rates. "Taxable" securities are subject to both normal and surtax rates.

* Less than $50,000.

^{1/} At current redemption values except Series G, which is stated at par.^{2/} Estimated, except for Series G.^{3/} For details concerning investment yields and redemption values, see "Treasury Bulletin" for May 1945, page A-4.^{b/} Commercial bank purchases were permitted prior to April 1, 1940, and are estimated to have aggregated about $300 million.

Not yet available.

^{c/} Series A-D, sold between March 1935 and April 1941, are 10 year discount bonds sold at 75% of maturity value, yielding 2.90% per annum if held to maturity; purchases were limited to $7,500 issue price in any calendar year and from April 1, 1940, could be made only by individuals. Series A bonds began to mature in March 1945. For information on the approximate monthly distribution of maturities during 1945 see "Treasury Bulletin" for March 1945, page A-2. The small amounts of matured bonds which have not been redeemed remain in the amount outstanding.^{d/} Through July 1945 $70.8 million of Series A-D and E savings bonds redeemed for cash or for Series F and G bonds had not been identified by series. For purposes of this table, it has been assumed that all of these were Series E bonds.^{e/} Series E, on sale since May 1, 1941, is a 10 year discount bond sold at 75% of maturity value, yielding 2.90% per annum if held to maturity; purchases are limited to $3,750 issue price in any calendar year and may be made only by individuals.

^{f/} Series F and G have been on sale since May 1, 1941. Series F is a 12 year discount bond sold at 75% of maturity value, yielding 2.53% per annum if held to maturity. Series G is a 12 year current income bond sold at par, bearing interest at the rate of 2 1/2% per annum, compounded semi-annually, plus 1/2% above par prices less than par before maturity. Purchases of Series F and G bonds in any one calendar year are limited to $100,000 issue price ($50,000 in calendar year 1941). Commercial banks were permitted to purchase Series F and G bonds during the calendar year 1944 under certain conditions ("Treasury Bulletin" for December 1944, page 36, footnote 9); and from June 18 through June 30, 1945 they were again permitted to make such purchases, subject to the following limitations: (1) purchases of Series F and G bonds from June 18 through June 30 were not to exceed the annual limit of $100,000; and (2) combined purchases of Series F and G bonds, 1 1/2% Treasury bonds due 12/15/50, and 7 1/8% certificates of indebtedness due 6/1/46 may not exceed 10% of the combined amount of time certificates of deposit of individuals and non-profit corporations or associations and of savings deposits, or $50,000, whichever may be less.

It should be noted that State figures presented in this table are not necessarily comparable with sales data by States inasmuch as bonds which have been purchased in one State may have been redeemed in another. Moreover, the figures shown in this table are based on current redemption values, whereas the sales figures are shown at issue price. Data on redemptions by States are not available prior to October 1944.

2/ Includes Series A bonds which have matured and which have been retired.

* Less than $50,000.

1/ These notes were originally designed to help taxpayers set aside funds with which to pay taxes and were known as Treasury tax savings notes. Series A notes were designed for the small and moderate taxpayer; Series B and Series C notes were intended for the large taxpayer. When the collection of taxes through withholding at the source commenced, the need for Series A tax savings notes disappeared and their sale was discontinued. Redemption provisions of Series A notes were relaxed to provide for the payment of interest on notes thereafter redeemed for cash (see footnote 3). Sale of Series A notes, which were designed for the investment of idle cash reserves as well as for the accumulation of tax reserves, was continued and the notes were designated Treasury savings notes.

2/ Includes matured Treasury savings notes.
 3/ Series A notes, which were sold from August 1, 1941 through June 22, 1943, yield approximately 1.92% per annum. Through June 22, 1943, the notes could be redeemed for cash only at the original purchase price; since that date, the notes have been redeemed for cash at the tax payment value current at the time of presentation. (See also footnote 1.) Prior to October 4, 1943, the maximum amount which could be used in payment of each class of tax (income, estate, or gift) by each taxpayer during each taxable year was limited to $5,000 par value; this limitation was removed as of that date.

4/ Series B notes were sold from August 1, 1941 through September 12, 1942, to yield approximately 0.45% per annum. The amount which may be turned in on taxes is unlimited. The notes may be redeemed for cash only at the original purchase price.
 5/ Series C notes went on sale September 14, 1942. Interest accrue each month on a graduated scale (see "Treasury Bulletin" for August 1943, page 4) to yield approximately 1.07% per annum if held to maturity. These notes may be used in payment of Federal taxes at any time two months after the date of issue. The amount which may be turned in on taxes is unlimited. The notes may be redeemed for cash six months after the date of issue at the tax payment value current at the time of presentation. Prior to July 27, 1943, notice of 30 days was required for cash redemption. See also footnote 1.

1/ Excludes Federal Housing Administration debentures.

2/ When the price of a security is such as to result in a negative yield, the excess of price over zero yield is given in the yield columns in thirty-seconds.

3/ Prices represent the mean of closing bid and ask quotations on the over-the-counter market except that prices of Treasury bonds for the period prior to October 1, 1939, represent closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange. "When issued" prices are included beginning October 1, 1939. Dates of highs and lows, in case of re-currency, are the latest dates.

4/ Market convention treats the yield to earliest call date as more significant when an issue is selling above par; the yield to maturity as more significant when an issue is selling at or below par. Included in the average of long-term taxable Treasury bonds (see

5/ Quoted on a yield basis.

6/ From July 10 through July 24, quoted on basis of zero yield plus premium per thousand dollars; beginning July 25, quoted at par.

7/ For amount of this security issued on August 1, 1945, see table on "Offerings of Marketable Issues of Treasury Bonds, Notes, and Certificates" in the chapter on "Public Debt and Guaranteed Obligations of the United States Government."

8/ This security was issued on August 2, 1945, in the amount of $1,317 million.

10/ Called on May 14 for redemption on September 15, 1945.

11/ This is the only bond eligible to remain in the average of long-term partially tax-exempt Treasury bonds (see page 66).

12/ Excludes postal savings bonds.

1/ When the price of a security is such as to result in a negative yield, the excess of price over zero yield is given in the yield column in thirty-seconds.

2/ Prices represent the mean of closing bid and ask quotations in the over-the-counter market. "When issued" prices for all securities except Federal Intermediate Credit Bank debentures are included beginning November 1, 1941. Dates of highs and lows, in case of recurrence, are the latest dates.

3/ Market convention treats the yield to earliest call date as more significant when an issue is selling above par; the yield to maturity as more significant when an issue is selling at or below par.

4/ Prices quoted are subject to a dealer's commission. These securities are not shown until date of issue.

5/ Excludes issues completely held by Farm Credit Administration agencies.

6/ This security was issued on August 1, 1945, in the amount of $176 million.

YIELDS OF TREASURY SECURITIES JULY 31, 1945

Basis of Computation: (1) Treasury bond yields are computed on the basis of the mean of closing bid and ask quotations in the over-the-counter market, beginning September 2, 1941; previously, closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange were used on days when sales took place on the Exchange in a particular issue and the mean of closing bid and ask quotations on the New York Stock Exchange on days when no sales took place. (2) Corporate bond yields are computed on the basis of closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange and the New York Curb Exchange; on days when an issue does not sell, the price of the last preceding sale is used.

Back Figures: Monthly and weekly data for the period January 1933 through March 1944 appeared in the "Treasury Bulletin" for April 1944, pages 57-61.
