Banking and Government

The following address was delivered by O. Max Gardner, Under Secretary of the Treasury, before the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks at Cleveland, Ohio on September 19, 1946.

When I received the invitation to speak before this distinguished group, I was very much constrained to decline, not from lack of appreciation, but for fear of my ability in this period to interpret the kaleidoscopic changes that are taking place throughout the world affecting your interest. However, I consider it a high honor and privilege to be here. I have known some of you personally and others by reputation, by virtue of having been Governor of North Carolina. As a former bank director and business executive, I feel that I know something of the banking problems of your respective States. I know I am in sympathy with sound banking, and I feel very definitely that this group has a large part in the preservation of the economic security of our country.

It has been my fortune - or misfortune - to have spent many years in public office. As Governor of North Carolina, I experienced economic chills and fever, the delirium of boom and the agony of bust. I know how it feels to believe that you are living in a period of perpetual prosperity and how it feels suddenly to tumble into the basement of bankruptcy. Having experienced all these vicissitudes in State government, I learned the hard lesson that, whether things look good or bad, we must face the facts.

If you will pardon me, I would like to tell you of some of the conditions that prevailed in the late '20's after the last war, as they may have some bearing on our action with respect to the problems now facing the States and the nation in this period. There is real value in remembering the lessons of the past. We are all prone to forget.

I do not contend that conditions of this period are similar to or identical with the conditions of the late '20's, but there are people who think that we are afflicted with some of the same symptoms that prevailed in that period.

When I came into office as Governor in 1929, the eight years preceding had been years of uninterrupted expansion of public service and public spending. In these eventful eight years North Carolina had been lifted from lethargy to perhaps the most dynamic commonwealth in the sisterhood of States. Schools, roads, institutions, all departments and agencies of government, had been touched with the stimulation of unprecedented growth. At the end of 1920, the State debt was $13 million. When I went into office, the first of 1929, it was $178 million. The pride of the people and their hopes were boundless. Neither the General Assembly nor business nor industry saw a cloud on the horizon.

In October of 1929, without warning, the bubble burst; the joy ride was over. Thereafter, each successive six months of the remainder of my administration saw the economic trend in the nation as a whole and in my State in retreat. The bold stream of revenue dwindled to a trickle.

During the past three to four years, and especially in the past year, you and I have heard and learned a great deal about the dangers of inflation and deflation. Both are bad. But I am here to tell you that in the period from 1929 to 1933, I learned, through struggle and personal and official punishment, that, of the two evils, deflation is equally as deadly as inflation, if not more so. For myself, I am a bull on America and have complete confidence in the economic stability of this country.

In this period of nightmare, as Director of the Budget of North Carolina, I was confronted on the one hand with dwindling revenue and on the other hand with the necessity of maintaining essential public service, as well as the character and the credit of my State. What was I to do in such a dilemma? I decided that it was necessary, in the public interest, for me to forget all political ambitions and assume the risk. I recalled the divine injunction and tried to apply it: "That he who would save his life must be willing to lose it." It was a question of how I would use the power that had been granted to me. As Director of the Budget, I cut legislative appropriations for the first biennium in the amount of $3-1/2 million and in the second biennium was compelled to reduce the cost of government an additional $6 million. This sounds like chicken feed now, but it was blood money then - money out of the arteries and veins of public service.

I am happy to say that our essential public services continued to function and the credit of North Carolina was saved. The State today is so prosperous that I fear it may forget the agonies of the period just described. In this connection, I am proud to say that North Carolina never failed to meet a payroll on time and never defaulted on any debt in this period. And I am more than happy to add that today, North Carolina, like a number of other States, has provided out of its surplus for the retirement of all of its presently outstanding general fund debt. In fact, all forty-eight State governments, by generally holding firm their tax rates and by moderately increasing their expenditures during the past six years, have participated in an expanding economy in which the national income has increased from $77-1/2 billion in 1940 to that which is currently running at an annual rate of approximately $160 billion. In these ways the States have contributed powerfully to the national battle against inflation. They have retired large amounts of public debt and they have built their cash reserves far beyond the dream of any preceding generation.

The Executive Director of the Council of State Governments reported last year as follows:

".....today the States are in better financial condition than they have been at any other time during the past half-century. The States have reduced their over-all indebtedness by approximately 25%; in general, they have maintained tax rates to assist in the anti-inflation program; they have accumulated within the past two years and they have invested in Government bonds, more than $4 billion; and they now have in their unemployment compensation reserve funds of more than $6 billion."

This is a grand record and the States today are in splendid condition to render still greater service to their citizens. We must never forget that much of this accumulated State revenue is also blood money. It came out of the veins and arteries of a nation at war. To my mind, one of our greatest dangers in this period is that we are likely to regard this unprecedented stream of State revenue as the natural flow. The day may come when the high peaks of the war period will appear as dim outlines against stark realities, just as it did ten years after the last war. It will then dawn upon all of us that wars do not make wealth - they destroy it; that States do not make money - they spend it.

There is much discussion today as to the value of our dollar. I believe it is the soundest money in the world. There are, roughly speaking, two ways to make money, one by way of the printing press, the other by work. I am a disciple of the divine doctrine of work. It must have been in mercy and not in wrath that man was commanded to eat his bread in the sweat of his face.

I believe that the bankers of America and the members of this Association should assume the leadership as we descend from the attic of wartime revenues to the plateau of matching revenues and expenditures.

Our present period is also unlike the period just described in this respect: that period marked the end of an era; we are now at the beginning of an era of peace after war. No matter what may lie ahead, we are infinitely better fortified to stabilize the future in banking, commerce and business than we were at the end of the '20's, when we had no effective shock absorbera.

Business is good today. Any man who wants a job can find one - perhaps not exactly the one he wants, or even the one he deserves, but a good one.

Business is good for employers also. Most of them are glad to hire all the labor they can get. They are making money.

Business with the banker is good. The banker is the businessman's businessman. When business is good for other businessmen, it is generally good for bankers. Today it seems easy to be a good banker; in 1932 it seemed hard. But I know that you are not taken in by appearances. If you are, you are not real bankers, and sooner or later, both you and the public are going to find it out.

The fact is that it is just as hard to be a good banker today as it was in 1932. It would be even harder if your Government had not supplied some very important services that were utterly lacking in the period of the '20's.

The establishment of aids to navigation is one of the oldest functions of Government. Your Government has made a tremendous contribution in the past fifteen years in installing constructive aids to banking navigation.

First, there is the FDIC. The FDIC insures you that it will be your own sailing, and not the other fellow's which determines whether you cross the finish line.

The FDIC does not insure you as a banker against loss. It insures your small depositors against loss. Formerly, they were expected to judge for themselves the quality of your assets. Now, all that they have to know is that your bank gives them good service and that it is insured by the FDIC.

But, more important to you as a banker, the FDIC insures you against the consequences of the mistakes of your small depositors - mistakes which they used to make in the evaluation of your assets. In pre-FDIC days, many a bank went down when it was really set on the right course and would have paid out handsomely if its depositors had only given it a chance. The FDIC insures you against depositor panic.

The second innovation of the past fifteen years is the SEC. The SEC improves the visibility of the channel in which you must navigate.

Many of you remember the bond salesmen who used to call on you in the '20's. They had a line of bonds, some of which turned out to be good and some of which did not. The blue sky was his horizon.

No one ever heard of a registration statement; and a prospectus might contain anything, or more likely, might not be forthcoming at all. If you inquired too closely about an issue, you might be cut off the preferred list of the offering house. You were expected to take a few not-so-good offerings in order to get your share of the choice and extra special ones.

The SEC has not dispelled the mystery of the future. The future will always be uncertain. But the SEC has given you better data upon which to base your judgments. It has required that the seller of securities find out the real facts about them and that he reveal these facts to the buyer.

Another innovation in Government during the past fifteen years has made banking a less uncertain business. This is the FHA.

The commercial banker is and always has been confronted with a dilemma. One horn is the liability side of his balance sheet. A very small portion of the funds which he employs are the property of his stockholders. Most of them are funds which have been left with him for safekeeping - funds which their owners consider to be cash. The other horn is the asset side of his balance sheet. The community is looking to him to provide a portion of the funds necessary, not only for its working capital, but also for some of its fixed assets.

The FHA has contributed materially to the solution of this dilemma, as far as housing loans are concerned. Moreover, while it has made housing loans safe enough for conservative bank investment, it has still left to the bank, subject to the supervision of the FHA, the responsibility of choosing them, servicing them, and - when worse comes to worse - of enforcing the liens.

The FDIC, the SEC, and the FHA are not the only new aids which the Government has installed in the past fifteen years to make banking a safer and more certain business.

I should have mentioned, in passing, the separation of the functions of commercial banking and of underwriting private securities. This was effected by the Banking Act of 1933. In addition, the Banking Acts of 1933 and 1935 extended the scope of the Federal Reserve System by broadening the definitions of paper which the Federal Reserve Banks can accept as collateral, and by providing an over-all control for the open-market operations of the System.

The past fifteen years have also seen the birth and development of the RFC. The RFC commenced operations as an emergency corporation, called into being by adversity. It did its job well in the banking crisis. But, fortunately, we now have at our disposal instruments which are designed - and which I believe are able - to prevent such crises, rather than merely palliating them after they occur.

The RFC has now liquidated almost all of its advances to banks and the greater part of its holdings of bank preferred stock. It has shown in this liquidation a record of which its directors have a right to be proud.

But we must never lose sight of the fact that the RFC was created to serve in a period of grave emergency and that its greatest value is that of a stand-by facility.

Finally, I should like to mention the change which has taken place in the past fifteen years in the position of the American banking system in respect to storms in the world economy. In many respects, this change is the most important of all.

Many of you remember reading in your newspapers in the Spring of 1931 of the troubles of the Credit Anstalt in Austria. You also remember that the wave of liquidation, which started in Austria and swept through Germany and England, hit the United States in the Fall of 1931, aggravating an already growing domestic crisis. That is the way the old gold standard worked. It acted as a medium - almost a perfect conductor - for transmitting crises from country to country.

Congress, by the monumental legislation of 1933 and 1934, culminating in the Gold Reserve Act, changed the entire character of the gold standard and ended forever this exposure of the American banking system to waves of liquidation coming from abroad. In recent years we have gone further; and, through the international institutions set up by the Bretton Woods Agreements Act, we are now endeavoring to stop these waves of liquidation at their source and to establish an orderly world economy in which all forms of private trade and investment can go forward with assurance.

I have not attempted to discuss the fiscal policy of the Treasury. This important subject will be fully discussed by Secretary Snyder at the meeting of the American Bankers Association in Chicago on September 24. I shall only say that I am in hearty sympathy with President Truman and Secretary Snyder in their firm purpose to balance the budget at the earliest possible moment and to make provision as quickly as conditions will warrant for the beginning of an orderly retirement of our public debt.

I am not a pessimist on the future of this nation. I believe in the capacity of the American people to solve every problem that duty brings before them. In every great hour of crisis, the people of this country have met the test. When the chips are down, we always find sons of strength to respond to this nation's need. Ours is a nation built on the doctrine that nothing is more precious than human freedom. I agree with Benjamin Franklin that those who give up essential liberty in order to secure a little safety deserve neither liberty nor safety.

I know what our critics say about us, but we do not pretend that America has a perfect system of government. Nobody knows better than our people how inefficient and reckless we sometimes become. But these signs are superficial and not fundamental. You and I know that the heart of this nation is sound. Its intentions and instincts are in the right direction and are honest and wholesome. It is the real character of a people, not the occasional slips and falls, that ultimately determines the fate of a nation and the terminal of the road upon which they travel.

In some way, somehow, in God's divine economy, our country falls within the marvelous simile of Fisher Ames when he said that a dictatorship is like a battleship - beautiful in motion, irresistible when under way, but a single hidden rock may send her to the bottom; while Democracy is a raft - always in trouble, your feet are always wet, but nothing, thank God, can sink her.

Notwithstanding the intimate relationship of international affairs to our domestic economy, I have not attempted to explore this field. To me, there are certain eternal and universal principles in the relations of man with man and nation with nation that should never be forgotten. These principles were not created by constitutions and world charters. They inhere in free government itself, for human freedom is impossible without them. Among these rights there is none more fundamental than this: "No citizen shall be deprived of his life, liberty or property except by the judgment of the law and after trial before an independent and impartial tribunal." To me, this represents the Ark of the Covenant of our national and international salvation.

Treasury Market Financing During August

Historical details of Treasury market financing operations involving bonds, notes, and certificates of indebtedness, beginning with the Fifth War Loan, are published in the tables on pages 29 and 30. Details of weekly Treasury bill offerings are shown on pages 31 and 32.

Cash Pay-Off and Refunding

On September 1, 1946 there was a maturity of 7/8% certificates of indebtedness in the amount of $4,336 million. Secretary of the Treasury Snyder announced on August 19, 1946 that about $2.0 billion of this would be paid off in cash, and that an offering of new one-year 7/8% certificates was being made, par for par, in exchange for the remainder. Exchange subscriptions were received subject to allotment to all holders on an equal percentage basis, except that subscriptions in amounts of $25,000 and less were allotted in full. Cash subscriptions were not received.

The new certificates were dated September 1, 1946 and will mature September 1, 1947. They will bear interest at the rate of 7/8% per annum, which will be subject to all Federal income taxes. Secretary Snyder stated that interest on the new certificates will be paid with the principal at maturity, rather than in the form of two semi-annual interest coupons, as on certificate issues heretofore. He stated that the purpose of this change is to simplify the procedure and avoid the inconvenience of handling coupons twice a year, thereby effecting an economy in clerical and accounting expenses to certificate holders, the Federal Reserve Banks, and the Treasury. The change was made after consultation with the Federal Reserve System and a number of representative holders of certificates.

The certificates were issued in bearer form only, in denominations of $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $100,000, and $1,000,000. Subscription books were opened on August 19 and closed at the end of business on August 21, except for the receipt of subscriptions from holders of $25,000 or less of the maturing certificates, for which the books remained open through August 22.

On August 30, 1946, the Secretary of the Treasury announced that exchange subscriptions for the new issue aggregated $4,145 million. Subscriptions in amounts of $25,000 or less were allotted in full in the amount of $39 million. Subscriptions in amounts over $25,000 were allotted 56% on a straight percentage basis, but not less than $25,000 to any one subscriber, and with adjustments to the next highest thousand where necessary. Total allotments amounted to $2,341 million with $1,995 million paid off in cash.

Reports to the Treasury on the ownership of Government securities indicate that on July 31, 1946 about 78% of the $4.3 billion of maturing certificates was owned by reporting commercial banks and Federal Reserve Banks. The ownership figures for July 31 are the latest available. Trading in the market after that date may have resulted in some shifts in ownership between banks and nonbank investors. It is clear, nevertheless, that a large proportion of the cash pay-off of $2 billion went directly to reduce the holdings of Government securities by banks.

Total Cash Pay-Offs to Date

With the payment in cash of $2.0 billion on the certificates maturing on September 1, 1946, the Treasury had paid off $15.5 billion on $30.7 billion of maturing and called securities since the debt pay-off program began on March 1, 1946. Thus, about 50% of the total was paid off in cash. The following table shows the amount maturing or called for payment, and the amount of cash pay-offs, in each month starting with March.

By September 3, 1946, the public debt had been reduced by a net amount of $13.8 billion, from its peak of $279.8 billion on February 28, 1946 to a new total of $266.0 billion. The net decline in the debt was thus about $1.6 billion less than the total of $15.5 billion of cash pay-offs. The difference was accounted for by other public debt transactions such as the continued sale of savings bonds and the sale of special issues to United States Government trust funds.

The following table presents a reconciliation of the cash pay-offs and the net decline in the debt from February 28, 1946 to August 31, 1946, and September 3, 1946.

The program of cash pay-offs has had a significant effect upon the distribution of the ownership of the debt between banks and nonbank investors. From February 28, 1946, the peak of the debt, to July 31, 1946, the latest date for which complete ownership data are available, the interest-bearing debt declined by $11.1 billion. About 89% of this decline occurred in the holdings of banks while only 11% occurred in the holdings of nonbank investors. This indicates that the debt reduction program of the Treasury has been effective in furthering the policy of reducing bank ownership of the debt as an aid to the control of inflationary pressures.

The following table presents the estimated distribution of the ownership of the interest-bearing debt as of February 28, 1946 and July 31, 1946. Historical data are available in a regular table in the statistical section on page 47 of this issue.

The table shows that three nonbank investor groups increased their holdings of Federal securities during the period while three others reduced them. The sharpest change occurred in the case of "other corporations and associations," which reduced their holdings by $3.2 billion during the period. This reduction reflects primarily payments on heavy 1945 tax liabilities and the need to raise funds for reconversion and expansion purposes. Almost half of the decline in these holdings was in the form of savings notes.

1/ Treasury bills are included in interest-bearing debt figures at face amount, but for purposes of calculating the computed annual interest charge and the computed rate of interest, the discount value is used. For the purposes of computing the annual interest charge and rate of interest on United States savings bonds, Series A-E are considered to yield 2.90% per annum and Series F is considered to yield 2.55%.

2/ Guaranteed securities held by the Treasury, and securities guaranteed as to interest only, are not included in this table.

- 1/ Excludes (1) postal savings bonds and (2) Federal Housing Administration debentures (the only interest-bearing public marketable guaranteed securities outstanding).
- 2/ It should be noted that callable issues appear twice in this column, once in the year of first call and again in the year of final maturity. Callable issues with respect to which a definite notice of call has been made, however, are listed as fixed maturities.
- 3/ Federal securities fall into three broad groups with respect to imposition of Federal income taxes on income derived therefrom.

"Wholly" tax-exempt securities are exempt from both the normal and surtax rates. "Partially" tax-exempt securities are exempt from the normal rates except that in the case of partially tax-exempt Treasury and savings bonds, interest derived from $5,000 of principal amount owned by any one holder is also exempt from the surtax rates. "Taxable" securities are subject to both normal and surtax rates. Bank restricted issues may not be acquired by commercial banks (with minor exceptions) prior to a specified date. See footnote 2, page 22.

1/ Original call and maturity dates are used.

2/ Bank restricted issue.

3/ Prior to the refunding operation of March 1, 1946, maturing issues were either paid off in full or the holders were given the privilege to exchange into another security in full. Beginning with that operation, some maturities have been split by the Treasury into a stated portion for cash retirement with the remainder covered by an offering of an exchange security.

Sales and Redemptions of United States Savings Bonds

United States savings bonds were first offered for sale in March 1935. Bonds of series A-D were sold between March 1935 and April 1941. Series E, F, and G bonds have been on sale since May 1, 1941.

Series A-E bonds are 10-year discount bonds sold at 75% of maturity value, and yield 2.90% per annum if held to maturity. Series F bonds are 12-year discount bonds sold at 74% of maturity value, and yield 2.53% per annum if held to maturity. Series G bonds are 12-year current income bonds, sold at par, bearing interest at 2-1/2% per annum, and redeemable at par at maturity or at stated prices less than par before maturity.

Purchases of series A-D bonds were limited to $7,500 issue price in any one calendar year. These bonds were available to all subscribers prior to April 1, 1940, and to individuals only after that date. Purchases of series E bonds are limited to $3,750 issue price in any one calendar year, and may be made only by individuals (defined as natural persons only). The limit for series F and G combined is $100,000 issue price in any one calendar year ($50,000 in calendar year 1941). Series F and G bonds are available to all subscribers except commercial banks. Commercial banks, however, were permitted to purchase these bonds during certain periods and with certain restrictions. For details concerning these periods and restrictions see "Treasury Bulletin" for December 1944, page 36, footnote 9, and "Treasury Bulletin" for February 1946, page 37, footnote 9, and page A-22. For details concerning features, investment yields, and redemption values see "Treasury Bulletin" for October 1945, pages A-4 and A-5.

Series A bonds matured in 1945, and bonds of series B began to mature in January 1946. Matured bonds turned in for redemption are included in the figures on redemptions. Matured bonds outstanding are reflected in the interest-bearing debt until all bonds of the series have matured, when they are transferred to matured debt upon which interest has ceased, in accordance with the practice of the Daily Treasury Statement.

In the following tables sales figures are quoted at issue price, and redemptions and amounts outstanding at current redemption values. Amounts of series G outstanding are quoted at par.

Note: It should be noted that State figures presented in this table are not necessarily comparable with sales data by States inasmuch as bonds which have been purchased in one State may have been redeemed in another. Moreover, the figures shown in this table are based on current redemption values, whereas the sales figures are shown at issue price. Data on redemptions by States are not available prior to October 1944.

Sales and Redemptions of Treasury Savings Notes

Treasury savings notes were issued in three series, series A from August 1, 1941 through June 22, 1943, series B from August 1, 1941 through September 12, 1942, and series C which have been on continuous sale since September 14, 1942. All of series A and B and some of series C notes have matured.

Series C notes are sold at par, and accrue in value each month, yielding 1.07% per annum if held to maturity (3 years from date of issue). These notes may be used in payment of taxes any time after 2 months after issue, or may be redeemed for cash any time after 6 months after issue. For details concerning features, investment yields, and tax payment or redemption values, see "Treasury Bulletin" for October 1945, pages A-4 and A-5. For details concerning the features of series A and B notes, see "Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury" for 1942, pages 207 and 220.

In the following tables sales and redemptions of Treasury savings notes are shown at par value. Matured notes turned in for redemption (either for cash or for tax payment) are included in the figures on redemptions. Matured notes outstanding are reflected in the interest-bearing debt until all notes of the series have matured, when they are transferred to matured debt upon which interest has ceased, in accordance with the practice of the Daily Treasury Statement. For sales and redemptions of series A and B notes by fiscal years and months, see "Treasury Bulletin" for February 1946, pages 42 and 43.

1/ Excludes Federal Housing Administration debentures (the only interest-bearing public marketable guaranteed securities outstanding).

2/ Prices represent the mean of closing bid and ask quotations in the over-the-counter market, except that prices of Treasury bonds for the period prior to October 1, 1939, represent closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange. "When issued" prices are included in history beginning October 1, 1939. Dates of highs and lows, in case of recurrence, are the latest dates.

3/ Market convention treats the yield to earliest call date as more significant when an issue is selling above par; the yield to maturity as more significant when an issue is selling at or below par.

4/ Included in the Average Yield of Long-Term Taxable Treasury Bonds.

5/ Issues which commercial banks may not acquire prior to a specified date (with minor exceptions).

6/ Quoted on a yield basis.

7/ Quoted on a price basis at par from August 21 through August 30, 1946; prior thereto quoted on a yield basis.

8/ For amount of this security issued on September 1, 1946, see table entitled "Offerings of Marketable Issues of Treasury Bonds, Notes, and Certificates of Indebtedness" in the section on the "Public Debt and Guaranteed Obligations of the United States Government".

9/ Excludes postal savings bonds.

1/ Prices represent the mean of closing bid and ask quotations in the over-the-counter market. "When issued" prices for all securities except Federal Intermediate Credit Bank debentures are included beginning November 1, 1941. Dates of highs and lows, in case of recurrence, are the latest dates.

2/ Market convention treats the yield to earliest call date as more significant when an issue is selling above par; the yield to maturity as more significant when an issue is selling at or below par.

3/ Quoted on a yield basis.

4/ Prices quoted are subject to a dealer's commission. These securities are not shown until date of issue.

5/ Excludes issues completely held by Farm Credit Administration agencies.

YIELDS OF TREASURY SECURITIES AUG. 30, 1946

Based on Mean of Closing Bid and Asked Quotations

Explanation: The points represent yields to call date when prices are above par, and to maturity date when prices are at par or below. The smooth curves for the various classes of points are fitted by eye. Issues for which an exchange offer has been made or which are due or callable in less than 3 months are excluded.

Note: Treasury bond yields are computed on the basis of the mean of closing bid and ask quotations in the over-the-counter market, beginning September 2, 1941; previously, closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange were used on days when sales took place on the Exchange in a particular issue and the mean of closing bid and ask quotations on the New York Stock Exchange on days when no sales took place. Corporate bond yields are computed on the basis of closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange and the New York Curb Exchange; on days when an issue does not sell, the price of the last preceding sale is used. Monthly and weekly data for the period January 1933 through March 1944 appeared in the "Treasury Bulletin" for April 1944, pages 57-61.

1/ Average of Treasury bonds neither due nor callable for fifteen years. For discussion of composition of average see "Treasury Bulletin" for March 1944, page 58. The partially tax-exempt series was discontinued on December 15, 1945 because there were no longer any bonds of this classification due or callable in 15 or more years. Partially tax-exempt bonds are those the interest on which is exempt from the normal rates of the Federal income tax, except that in the case of partially tax-exempt Treasury and United States savings bonds, interest derived from $5,000 of principal amount owned by any one holder is also exempt from the surtax rates of the Federal income tax. Taxable bonds are those the interest on which is subject to both the normal and surtax rates of the Federal income tax.

2/ For discussion of present composition of high-grade corporate bond average, see "Treasury Bulletin" for January 1945, page 56; for discussion of its previous composition, as well as the considerations underlying its construction, see "Treasury Bulletin" for April 1943, page 61.

3/ Monthly averages of daily figures. Prior to April 1, 1938, corporate bonds are averages of Saturday figures.

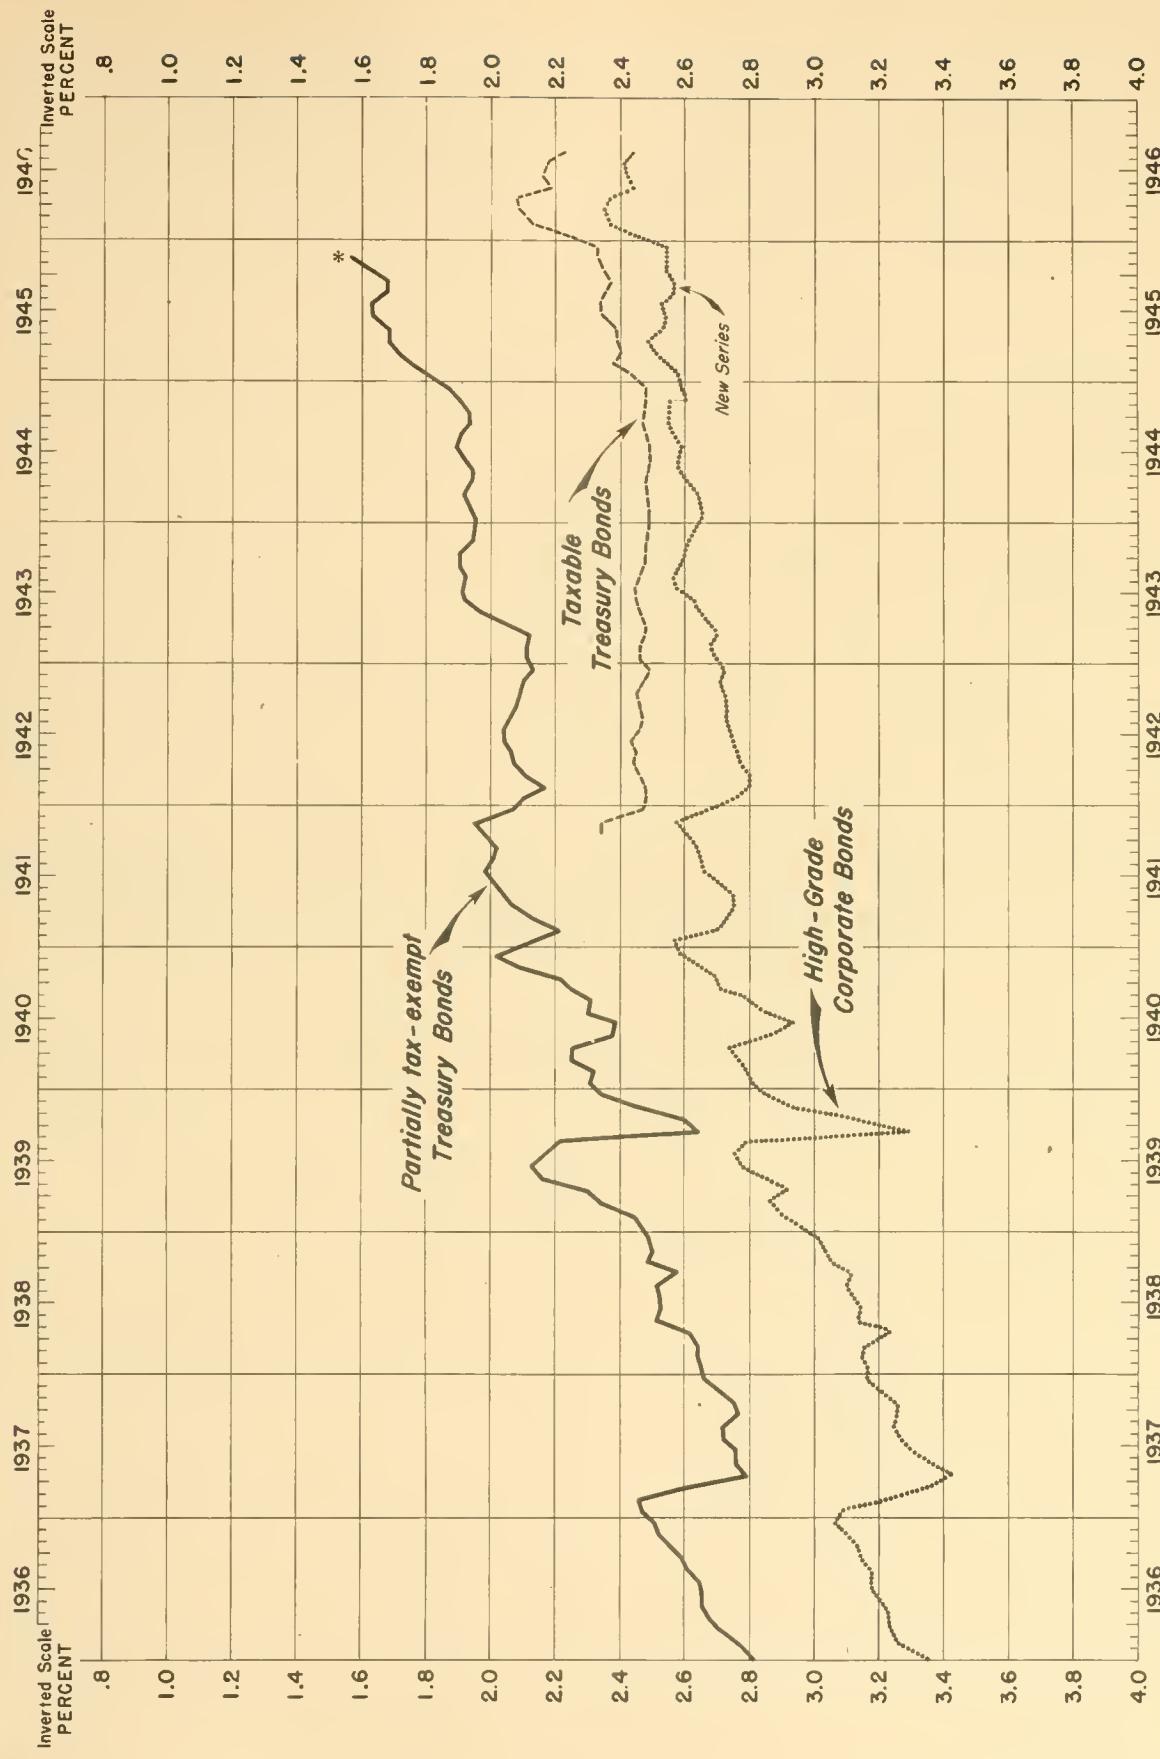

4/ The composition of the high-grade corporate bond average was revised commencing with November 1, 1944. The old average for November 1944 was 2.56%. See footnote 2.

5/ On days when the exchanges are closed, the date and prices of the previous day are used.

6/ Market closed.

CAPITAL MOVEMENTS BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN COUNTRIES AND NET POSITION
IN FOREIGN CURRENCIES

Capital Movements Between the United States and Foreign Countries

This chapter on Capital Movements between the United States and Foreign Countries and Position in Foreign Currencies is divided into four main groups. Section I of Capital Movements, the Historical Summary, contains data regarding capital movements, by the principal types of data and by years, starting with 1935. The last thirteen months are also shown. Each type of data is then broken down into its chief components in the same chronological detail.

Section II supplies a geographic breakdown by principal countries for the last thirteen months. The total capital movements are given first and then the principal categories are shown separately. In addition, at this point, the total outstanding claims on and liabilities to foreign countries are each presented.

Details with respect to capital movements and short-term claims and liabilities are presented in Section III as of the latest month for which the data are available.

The last group contains information regarding the net position in foreign currencies of United States banks and brokers, their outstanding foreign exchange contracts and purchases and sales of foreign exchange, both spot and forward. This section covers a twelve-month period.

Figures for previous periods may be obtained from the following sources:

Supplement to the "Treasury Bulletin" on "Capital Movements between the United States and Foreign Countries, January 1942 through April 1945", for details during that period.

"Treasury Bulletin", November 1945, for capital movements, and position in foreign currencies by months, 1942-1945.

"Treasury Bulletins", March 1942 and earlier, for details covering years back to January 2, 1935.
